

SURUCHI SHARMA

Personal information - I was brought up in a village named Jubbal in Himachal Pradesh till the age of 15. Until, very recent all my actions were results of fears and insecurities. So, I never gave a thought to what I want to do in life. Very late in my life, I have started doing what I like. It will be a great pleasure if my experience or I can help even a single kid to get rid of the fears and insecurities.

Education and Profession- I have got a Ph.D. degree in Biological Sciences from NCBS-Bangalore, India and worked as a post-doctoral researcher at IISc-Bangalore India for three years. During my Ph.D. and post-doc, I have been developing new tools and assays for both quantitative imaging and in vitro estimation of small molecules like cAMP and cGMP. I also characterized genes involved in cAMP signaling in Mycobacteria -the causative agent of tuberculosis. Nowadays I am learning computer programming and statistics because I love them.
